From an Orphan to CEO of Focus on the Family: Cancer stole His Mother's Life, Leaving him an Orphan

Jim Daly's personal journey from orphan to head of an international Christian organization dedicated to helping families thrive is a powerful story. Abandoned by his alcoholic father at age five, Daly lost his mother to cancer four years later. The wound was deepened when his grieving stepfather emptied the family home and took off with almost everything while Daly and his four siblings were at their mother's funeral. Several tough years in foster care followed, before Daly became a Christian in high school and found meaning, purpose and a sense of belonging. "I am living proof," he wrote in his 2007 autobiography, Finding Home, "that no matter how torn up the road has already been, or how pothole-infested it may look ahead, nothing – nothing – is impossible for God."
